

MINE PLANTED IN ROADWAY

Blew Up Lorry Carrying British Crown Forces in Ireland

FOUR MEN DEAD AS THE RESULT

This Is the First Time This Method of Attack Has Been Used

Dublin, Feb. 3.—Four men are dead as a result of an ambush of a squad of auxiliary police at Fallsmeale, near here yesterday, two of the wounded having died last night. One of two motor lorries was blown up by a mine set in the road. It is said that this was the first time this method of attack had been used against crown forces in Ireland.

Three lorries loaded with police were attacked here last night, several bombs being thrown at them. The officers on board returned the fire, two civilians being wounded. A constable in plain clothes who was cycling along Terry street was shot during the evening.

FOUND HER A W O L SON.

Charlestown, Mass., Woman Assisted Naval Authorities.

Boston, Feb. 3.—This not for one by the name of Kelley to walk away from the United States navy without proper authority was the decision made by Mrs. James Kelley of Charlestown, when informed that her son, John, 16, was a W O L from the training station at Newport since Jan. 20. Yesterday she started to hunt for him. Today he is on his way back to quarters.

Mrs. Kelley traced the young sailor to Lynn, where he surrendered.

GOVERNMENT'S CASH

COUNTED TO A PENNY

This Was the First Time in a Dozen Years That Thorough Invoice Has Been Made.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 3.—A complete count of the government's cash has just been made for the first time in 12 years. The total approximated thirteen billion, five hundred million dollars and included all cash and securities held as reserves against currency outstanding.

The count was made by a special committee of three, assisted by eight accountants and by 15 laborers who were used to move around the heavy sacks of gold and silver. The men delved into great vaults in the treasury building and took stock of gold, silver and paper money and securities, many of which had not been the light of day since shortly after William Howard Taft was inaugurated president and a new treasurer of the United States appointed in 1909.

The accountants in entering the vaults passed grim visaged guards who day and night "sit on the lid" to prevent any possible attempts at an unauthorized raid on the treasury. The vaults themselves are supposed to be burglar proof and are of massive concrete and steel construction. The storage sections are kept under seal and this was the first time that some of them had been opened in 12 years for when John Burke became treasurer.

President Wilson was first inaugurated, he accepted the count of cash in the storage sections which had not been opened since the previous government.

The accounts handled money of every possible denomination from the lowly copper to $10,000 bills. Many of the bills, particularly those of $1,000, were in sheets of four each and held as reserve against currency of smaller denominations in circulation. Thousand dollar bills in circulation are few and each bank in the country is kept supplied by the treasury with a list of them with their numbers so that if perchance any are extracted from the treasury illegally the holder will have extreme difficulty in realizing on them.

The count just finished was made necessary by the retirement of John Burke as treasurer and was completed in the remarkably short time of three weeks through the use of electric counting machines. Loose coins passed through these machines instead of being counted by hand as was necessary in the olden days. Paper currency was counted by the piece, but stored coins and currency were counted by the sack or package in cases where the wrappings were unbroken and the seal on each intact.

The main supply of the government's money is stored in two large vaults, but there are a number of smaller ones in the various divisions of the department as well as in the cash rooms where cash payments are made by the government.

Gold coins stored in the vaults were counted by weight. The gold is kept in sacks, sealed with the treasurer's wax seal and containing $5,000 each, weighing about 18 pounds and seven ounces. First one sack was weighed and then the others were examined. If both the seal and covering were found intact they were weighed against the first or test sack and if the result was the same were passed and counted. However, if a seal was broken or the sack torn or there was appreciable difference in weight the contents were counted by the piece.

Standard silver dollars were counted in the same way as the gold coins. They are stored in sacks containing 1,000 and weighing about 60 pounds. Work on the silver coin was lessened, officials said, by the government's melting 100,000,000 silver dollars under the Pittman act for sale to the British government to relieve the silver famine in India during the war.

Paper money is stored in paper packages making a cube of about seven and one-half inches each way and containing 4,000 notes. On each package is stamped the amount and the denomination of the notes inclosed. A wax seal is attached. Except where a broken seal or package necessitated an actual count of the contents the paper in the vaults was counted by the package.

Sealed packages of paper money are accepted from the bureau of engraving and printing as correct when the wrappings are intact because the issue division of the treasury maintains an office in the bureau and in reality counts all the paper money before it leaves the bureau.

Coins of smaller denominations—quarters, dimes, nickels and coppers—stored in sacks were counted in the same manner as the silver and gold by taking the weight of a test sack for each denomination and weighing the other sacks against it.

DECLARES NO JUSTIFICATION

Of Railroads' Proposal to Reduce Wages of Employees

JEWELL AND OTHERS SEND IN PROTEST

They Say Atterbury Is Violating Procedure Established By Law

Chicago, Feb. 3.—Arguments against abrogation of the national wage agreements between the railroads and their employees, already laid before President Wilson and members of Congress by brotherhood leaders, were presented today to the railroad labor board. Since the request of W. W. Atterbury of the Pennsylvania lines for relief from these agreements was laid before the board Monday, representatives of the employees have been preparing a rebuttal to be presented by B. M. Jewell, president of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor.

Members of the board indicated that a decision may be reached in executive session to-morrow. Mr. Atterbury declared the railroads' need for economies was so urgent that many of the roads faced bankruptcy and there was no time to confer with employees on the abrogation of the agreements.

"We are convinced," said a telegram to President Wilson signed by Mr. Jewell and six other organization leaders, "that he (Mr. Atterbury) wished to take advantage of the temporary unemployment and the unfortunate economic condition of the railroad workers, which the railroads themselves have intensified, to crush our labor organizations."

"We shall show that there is no economic justification for wage reductions and that a reduction in the general cost of living is not dependent upon a reduction in our wages and that of other wage earners."

"There is no doubt that the temporary requirements of the railroads could be financed by the railroad bankers were they as much interested in the maintenance of railroad credit as some of them evidently are in crushing labor organizations and reducing wages. If the public expects us to maintain the spirit and letter of the law and to rely upon judicial settlement of differences in an orderly way, we must be protected against the ill-advised efforts of Mr. Atterbury and his associates who are violating the procedure established by law and because of an absurd and impossible obsession for destroying labor organizations are resorting to methods which are inadmissible and opposed to the public welfare."

SO WEAK SO NERVOUS

How Miserable This Woman Was Until She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toomsboro, Ga.—"I suffered terribly with backache and headache all the time, was so weak and nervous I didn't know what to do, and could not do my work. My trouble was deficient and irregular periods. I read in the papers what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others and decided to give it a trial. I got good results from its use so that I am now able to do my work. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends who have troubles similar to mine and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. C. F. PHILLIPS, Toomsboro, Ga.

Weak, nervous women make unhappy homes, their condition irritates both husband and children. It has been said that nine-tenths of the nervous prostration, nervous depression, "the blues," irritability and backache arise from some displacement or derangement of a woman's system. Mrs. Phillips' letter proves that no other remedy is so successful as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

it was the custom of our grandparents when anything was the matter with their stomach, liver or kidneys, to take a remedy composed of the right kind of roots and herbs, and by so doing lived to a ripe old age. It is also true that the Shakers, who have always depended upon the life-giving juices of leaves, roots and herbs, are long-lived people. The roots and herbs of which SEVEN BARKS is principally composed were gathered by the Shakers for many, many years, then scientifically blended, and SEVEN BARKS has become famous as one of the most reliable remedies for Indigestion, Constipation, Liver, Kidney and Stomach disorders.

Dull pains in the back, often under the shoulder blades, poor digestion, heartburn or flutters, sour risings, yellow skin mean liver troubles, and you should take SEVEN BARKS; it will relieve you, as it will make the liver active, tone up the digestive organs and cause the bowels to act normally. SEVEN BARKS is not a cure-all, but a very reliable remedy that will act once on the liver, stomach and bowels, sets them to right, tones and strengthens the general health.

If you want to get the greatest efficiency out of your body, enjoy and prolong your life, take SEVEN BARKS. At druggists, 60 cents a bottle. Don't put it off; get it to-day.—Adv.

Little Graves by the Hundred Thousand—Unless Help Comes Quickly

OVER 3,500,000 children in eastern and central Europe face starvation between now and the next spring harvest.

Little tots—three and a half million of them!

The mind cannot grasp such figures. If this number of children were to march four abreast in close marching order in army stride, the formation would reach from Detroit to New York, and would take forty days and forty nights to pass a given point. Or, visualize these figures in another way; if this number of children were to die and be buried in one trench, it would make one continuous grave 2800 miles long—the distance from San Francisco to New York.

It is a Child's Right to Live

It has been said, "Old men make wars, young men fight them, but always, the children suffer most." These children are the helpless victims of the late war and they are neither responsible for the war nor for their coming into the world. Many of these children are without either fathers or mothers; they live where local aid and assistance are absolutely impossible; help must come from outside if they are to continue to live.

Is a Child's Life Worth $10?

Ten Dollars—will assure life for one of these children. It will provide sufficient food and medical care—enough to stand squarely between life and death.

The life of a child—in all God's earth there is no more precious and priceless a thing.

And at least one little life should be yours to save. You who love children surely will take to you hearts one of these innocent little lives. You will need no further urging. Your hearts will respond eagerly and generously.

Whatever your gift—Ten Dollars to save one child, or Ten Thousand Dollars to save a thousand children, send your gift without delay to either your local committee or to Franklin K. Lane, Treasurer, 42 Broadway, New York City.

FORDNEY BILL IS TOTTERING

Little Chance for Measure Ever to Come to Vote in Senate

ANOTHER FLOOD OF ORATORY

Expected As Result of Defeat of the Cloture Resolution

Washington, D. C., Feb. 3.—The Fordney emergency tariff bill, surviving a day of political jockeying yesterday, still was lingering before the Senate to-day although chances of the measure ever coming to a final vote had been reduced to uncertainty by the overwhelming defeat of the cloture resolution which re-opened the gates for another flood of oratory. The bill had precedence over all business except from 12 to 2 o'clock.

A GREAT ADVENTURE.

Marquis of Carisbrooke Going to Do Something.

New York, Feb. 3.—The Marquis of Carisbrooke, who was booked to sail to-day for England aboard the steamship Aquitania, announced he would enter a business career with a large London shipping concern. He has never before been engaged in any sort of commercial pursuit.

He is a son of the prince of Battenberg, grandson of Queen Victoria, a cousin of King George and a brother of the Queen of Spain. He has been a guest here for several months of Cornelius Vanderbilt.

Mr. Charles M. Schwab, head of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, was also a passenger. At his office it was said he would visit England, France and Italy, but that his trip had no business significance. He is going abroad solely for rest and recreation, and an assistant said.

Joseph R. Wilson, brother of President Wilson, also was on the passenger list.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody Can Tell When You Darken Gray, Faded Hair With Sage Tea.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.—Adv.

What Every American Should Know About His Country and Its Opportunities

Thomas A. Edison as a Newsboy on a Train

THERE have been issued in this country more than one million patents for inventions and devices of more or less importance and aid to every one. The world owes the inventor a great debt, for he is one of the great benefactors of mankind. America stands high in the ranks of inventive genius. Within the last half century Americans have contributed, to mention only great achievements, the telegraph, the telephone, the electric light, the sewing machine, the reaper, and vulcanized rubber, to the world's wealth—a far greater contribution than that of any other nation. One of these benefactors of the human race is Thomas A. Edison, who is acknowledged by all to be the world's greatest inventor. Since the establishment of this first laboratory, Edison has made several hundred inventions; two of his most widely known achievements being the perfection of the electric light and the invention of the phonograph. Untold millions have been added to the wealth of the world because of the Edison inventions, and the pleasure and joy of living have been increased many fold by the ceaseless activity of this great inventor. Although now past the age of seventy, Edison is still a tireless worker and his brain has lost none of its brilliant, wrote, set up and printed all
